Lafayette in America

in 1824 and 1825

By Auguste Levasseur, General Lafayette’s Private Secretary during His Trip
Translated and with an Introduction by Alan R. Hoffman
628 pages, 12 black-and-white illustrations and a fold-out route map

Ordering For Advance Copies – Retail

Title: Lafayette in America       Price: $30 plus $5 shipping
Binding: Hardcover with Jacket    10 or more copies: $24 each

Individuals can order by email, mail, fax, telephone (in North America). Payment is by check.

Mail orders and payments to:

Alan R Hoffman
Lafayette in America
Order Department
45 Hardy Road
Londonderry, NH 03053, USA   By email or phone:

E-mail inquiries/orders:
arhoffman@lynchbrewer.com

Telephone: 617-951-1817
FAX: 617-951-0811

Quantity: ______   SHIP: USPS: $5, 1-2 copies. Add $2/copy for 3-9 copies. $15, 10 copies. Inquire for larger multiples.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS ________________________________

BUYER’S PHONE(s) ________________________________

BUYER’S EMAIL(s) ________________________________

Bill to:
_________________________________________________
_________________________________________________
_________________________________________________
_________________________________________________

Please complete page 2 (over)
“Alan R. Hoffman has done a masterful job of reacquainting us with a classic text that deserves wider recognition. Auguste Levasseur’s account of Lafayette’s visit to American in 1824-1825 is a ringside seat at one of the great events in American social and cultural history. Through this fine new English translation, we are able to come along as Lafayette travels to all twenty-four states in the Union, accepts the adulation of a nation, and has adventures aplenty, including a harrowing shipwreck. What makes the account all the more valuable as a commentary on America is that it reveals how very fitting was Lafayette’s sobriquet ‘The Nation’s Guest’, as he insisted on spending time not just with the country’s elite, but also with ordinary citizens, African Americans, and American Indians.”

Diane Windham Shaw
Special Collections Librarian
Lafayette College

Copyright © 2006 Alan R. Hoffman
Lafayette's Grand Tour here in the 1820s was an enormous celebration in many places. Besides learning details of this signal event in many states, it is an opportunity to learn of particular citizens who met him. One example was Culpeper, Virginia. It is a signal account of America's contemporary appreciation of the importance of France in our Revolution as expressed in the huge welcome given to the Marquis de Lafayette. Read more. One person found this helpful.