Description: Bumping to top and bottom of spine. Ex lib with the usual stamps and markings. If English Grammar be truly defined as the art of speaking and writing the English Language with propriety, then assuredly, the practise of elocution should form a component part of the curriculum of every school and college. That such has not been the case until a very recent period, and is even now only partially so, is evidenced by the fact that among all classes of society there is no complaint more general than that of the rarity of good readers.

Publisher: Constable & co ltd
Edition: Fair
Book Size: 210mm x 140mm
Pages: 293
Volumes:
Condition: Dust Jacket is ripped. Pen markings from previous owner to fep. This book is neither a social history nor a manual on etiquette. It is an endeavour to depict certain patterns of behaviour which at different dates and in different places, have been evolved by minorities as representing the culture of their time. The varying types of civility produced during the last two thousand years reflected, not material conditions only, but also what was regarded as most admirable by contemporary thinkers and idealists. Every society invents for itself a type, a model, an examplar, of what the perfect member of that society ought to be.

There are few stiller things than the stillness of a summers noon such a this, a summers noon in a broken woodland with the deer asleep in the braken, and the twitter of birds silent in the coppice, and hardly a leaf astir in the huge beeches that fling their cool shade over the grass. Afar off a gilded vane flares out above the grey Jacobean Gables of Knoll, the chime of a village clock falls faintly on the ear, but there is no voice or footfall of living thing to break the silence as i turn over leaf after leaf of the book i have brought with me from the bustle of town to this still retreat, a book that is the record of a broken life, broken off, as he who lived it says of another, with a ragged edge. It is a book that carries one far from the woodland stillness around into the din and turmoil of cities.

Condition: Boards are stained and faded. Boards have slight bow. Pen markings to inside front cover. Browning to pages. Hinge is loose where it joins the front boards. I was born in the year 1632, in the city of York, of a good family, though not of that country, my father being a foreigner, of Bremen, who settled at Hull. he got a good estate by merchandise, and leaving off his trade, lived afterward at York from whence he had married my mother whose relations were named Robinson, a very good family in that country,and after whom i was called Robinson Kreutznaer but by the usual corruption of words in England, we are now called, nay we call ourselves and write our name Crusoe, and so my companions always called me.

Eyvind Johnson 1914
Author: Mary Sandbach
Publisher: Adam books
Edition: Good
Jacket Condition: Fair
Pages:
Volumes:
Condition: It happened in 1914 is the first part of the Olaf Tetralogy. A book that can be appreciated on several levels, as a human document, it is a deeply penetrating account of a boys transition from childhood to adolescence, but more particularly, it is the story of a gifted but under privileged youth preparing to break out of the bleak enviroment of an Arctic province. As such it is a vivid recreation of a process that the Author himself, like so many other proletarian writers throughout Europe,underwent earlier this century, and the hero can be seen as representative of the major social convulsions of our time. £3.50 postage and packing.

Gielguds Letters
Author: Richard Mangan
Publisher: Weidenfeld & Nicolson
Edition: Book Size: 245 x 160mm
Condition: Good
Jacket Condition: Good
Binding: Hardcover
Pages: 564
Volumes: 1
Description: Black Boards with silver lettering to spine. End pages are slightly dirty. Otherwise Book is in good condition. Book has been price clipped. John Gielgud wrote letters almost every day of his Adult Life. Here for the first time and not previously available to biographers are some of Gielguds love letters. They show that he was not shy in expressing the intimacies of personal relationships. Gielgud had a reputation for speaking his mind, and this is evident as he writes about his contemporaries. Here is a rich life seen through eighty years of letter writing before the age of E-mail.

Statue of Lord Byron in Athens. Byron was already a very successful poet by then, making lots of money, most of which if he didn’t spend on travel but on women. He had some attempts to settle for a more family-orientated life, as his political career dictated, but this did not go so well. Milbanke left Byron in 1816, after which he freely proceeded with his pleasure-seeking. Such way of life more affected Byron’s reputation to the point he self-exiled from Britain in the spring of 1816, never coming back.
